GUILTY IN TEA POT DOME WILL BE PUNISHED

President Coolidge In New York Speech Makes It Plain To All That No Guilty Man Can Hope To Escape

By GEORGE R. HOLMES

I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

Washington, Feb. 13.—President Coolidge, returned to the White House early this morning with the result of his New York trip—his initial venture into the field of political speech making away from the Capital. Especially gratifying to the President and his political advisers was the manner in which the announcement of the Administration's position on the Teapot Dome scandal was received. No part of his speech was overlooked, nor heard with great indifference or approval, than that in which he said:

"My duty is to extend to every citizen the constitutional right to the enjoyment of innocence and to be proven guilty. I want no hue and cry, no shouting of innocent and guilty in the confusion of questions of law with questions of fraud and corruption. There will be immediate adequate, thorough prosecution, criminal and civil, to punish the guilty and protect the innocent."

While pressure for Secretary Denby's immediate resignation has been considerably lessened in the face of the President's firm stand, it is nevertheless believed by Administration officials that Mr. Coolidge advises that a question of time before the Secretary will be compelled to resign not because of wrongdoing but because once the Government goes into court to recover the lands Denby's position becomes untenable.

Special counsel for the Government will begin legal proceedings to recover the oil lands through an action on the legality of their transfer from the Interior department and validity of the contracts now in dispute and Doheny's interest.

Special counsel appointed by the President to represent the Administration and in a sense will represent Coolidge personally. Secretary Denby also represents the Administration and is a member of the President's official family.

This would become an intolerable situation, it was pointed out by Administration leaders today. Lawyers, Denby and Doheny might well be the special counsel or the members represented the government. Both will be no haste about Denby's resignation. He is in the cabinet until every one of the hue and cry referred to the President has disappeared. Denby said, he will quietly resign.

Washington, Feb. 13 (INS).—President Coolidge today was challenged by Senator Robin on the floor of the Senate to "carry the country" in "defense" of Secretary Denby. (Continued on Page Seven.)

GARFIELD MAY TAKE PLACE OF STRAWN AS OIL PROBE COUNSEL

Washington, Feb. 13 (INS).—In the event of opposition that has developed in the Senate to the selection of Siras Strawn of Chicago, as one of the special counsel appointed by the President to prosecute the naval cases, it was strongly intimated today that the White House today may retire and that Siras Garfield, Secretary of the Interior in the Roosevelt Administration, may be appointed in his stead. Mr. Coolidge had a conference with Strawn this morning. Later called in Dr. Garfield, a conservative, it was understood to have none of the "progressive" connection which led to the opposition to Strawn.

OUTSTANDING FEATURES OF PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

Outstanding features of President Coolidge's address before the National Republican Club in New York last night follow:
A pledge to push the oil lease investigation to the limit.
Advocacy of a nation-wide propaganda to compel favorable action on the Mellon tax cut plan.
Intimation that the United States would be willing to go into a further conference to limit armaments.
Sustains sales of arms to Obregon and says United States will continue to support him.
Intimates United States may participate in the debt settlements now being worked out in Europe.
Declares country's industries in most flourishing condition since war-time period.
Prosperity of farmers is being restored through Federal relief.
Nation is paying off its debt at the rate of $500,000,000 each year.

New York, N. Y., Feb. 13, 1924.—

Calvin Coolidge discarded in New York last night the mantle of an inherited party leadership to appear in a cloak of his own cutting.

He renounced no part of his legacy from the Harding administration, but in this, his first address as President outside of the national capital, he enunciated his own policies, for which he will seek endorsement of the American people.

The President's Lincoln Day speech, delivered to 2000 applauding hosts of his party assembled at a Waldorf banquet by the National Republican Club, was a companion message to his first address to Congress in December.

It struck those who heard it as clear, courageous and concise in its every reference to Federal tax reduction, the soldiers' bonus bill, Mexico, Europe, labor, agricultural relief and Teapot Dome.

The President's first pilgrimage from the capital was a continuous ovation. Blase old New York stood on street curbs in snow and cold to bid him greeting. It crowded his hotel and was massed at his every turn in his seven-hour stay in the metropolis. New York seemed anxious not only to see Mr. Coolidge, but to applaud him. This modern "Bagdad-on-the-Subway," inured to celebrities, froze its cars and its toes for a glimpse of the man it had ignored as vice president because it did not know him.

Opening Gun of Campaign.
His address tonight was punctuated by interruptions of applause. The Coolidge manner of saying things in simple, understandable fashion captivated this New York audience, as it had amazed a joint session of Congress three months before. He was just as precise and just as effective.

The impression seemed general that Mr. Coolidge was firing the opening gun of his campaign for the presidency. No trace of political cant or demagoguery betrayed his purpose, but his blunt statement of policy carried conviction.

Because the Teapot Dome scandal was uppermost in the minds of so many of those who heard him, his ringing denials to the Senate of last night echoing in every quarter of New York today, the President struck straight from the shoulder in his statement of policy. He gave further notice to a surly Senate, just now acting more like a quarrelsome board of aldermen, that he was not to be moved by political threat into taking unwarranted action against any one.

"I want no hue and cry, no mingling of innocent and guilty in unthinking condemnation," Mr. Coolidge asserted as the banquet room resounded with cheers. "No confusion of mere questions of law with questions of fraud and corruption."

"It is at such a time that the quality of our citizenry is tested—unflinching toward evil, fair-minded and intent upon the requirements of due process, the shield of the innocent and the safeguard of society itself. I ask the support of our people as Chief Magistrate, intent on the enforcement of our laws without fear or favor, no matter who is hurt or what the consequences."

The President argued for the Mellon tax reduction program in a manner calculated to bring that issue before the country in a new and favorable light.

AUTHORITIES GET A LINE ON RECENT "PEN" EXPLOSION

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 13 (INS).—City and county investigating agencies co-operating with the trustees of the Western Penitentiary at River side today were painstakingly piecing together shreds of evidence in their hunt for the outside confederates alleged to have been the powers behind the explosion to the Penitentiary on Monday. Fred Daugherty, a former prisoner in the penitentiary was taken into custody today and authorities declared valuable leads had been obtained from questioning him.

Two women of the Pittsburgh underworld, were mentioned by Daugherty as conspirators in the dynamite plot at the prison which resulted in two deaths. No suspicion attaches to Daugherty, it was announced, but it was thought his knowledge of prison affairs might be of value to the probe.

"To Relieve the Country."
"I think it is easy enough to see," he said, "that I wish to include in the program a reduction in the high surtax rates, not that small incomes may be required to pay more and large incomes be required to pay less, but that more revenue may be secured from large incomes and taxes on small incomes may be reduced; not because I wish to relieve the wealthy, but because I wish to relieve the country."

Mr. Coolidge traced a steer from a farmer's pasture to the packer, the tanner, the shoe manufacturer, to various distributing agencies and back to the farmer as a pair of shoes, to illustrate how taxes are passed along to the consumer. He invoked other home ways of presenting the surtax issue to the man in the street.

To show that incentive to business expansion is chilled by graduated surtaxes which reduce income as it grows larger—if that seem not too paradoxical—the President said:

"If we had a tax whereby on the first working day the Government took 5 per cent of your wages, on the second day 10 per cent, on the third day 20 per cent, on the fourth day 30 per cent, on the fifth day 50 per cent and on the sixth day 60 per cent, how many of you would continue to work on the last two days of the week? It is the same with capital. Surplus income will go into tax-exempt securities. It will refuse to take the risk incidental to embarking in business."

Aid to Small Taxpayer.
Then, again, he stated an obvious fact to drive home a telling argument:

"I agree perfectly with those who wish to relieve the small taxpayer by getting the largest possible contribution from the people with large incomes. But if the rates on large in-

COAL OPERATORS NOT IN FAVOR OF LONG TERM CONTRACT

Favor Continuance of
Present Wage Scale
But Think Four Years
a Little Too Long.

IS BEING DISCUSSED

Jacksonville, Fla., Feb. 13 (INS).—The sub-committee deliberating over a new wage scale for miners of the central competitive district, met in executive session today.

The general committee has left all power of arbitration to this body and will not convene again until it has reached an agreement.

It was freely predicted by leaders of both miners and operators that there will be no discussion. The miners are asking for a continuance of the present wage scale, with a four year contract.

Operators intimated that the same wage scale would be granted but that the four year contract would be opposed. They pointed out that this was too long a period for any wage scale to extend and further argued that the next conference would fail, as this, on the eve of a presidential year.

This, they said, was undesirable because of possible political effects. John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, and other officers of the organization, today were meeting with the sub-committee. This group is composed of two miners and two operators from each section of the central competitive district.

Several of the delegates to the conference entrained for their homes last night and today, stating that no difficulties were anticipated in reaching an agreement and that the sub-committee would well attend to matters. Other members of the general committee were playing golf and seeking amusement with winter visitors.

William Green, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers and also secretary of the general committee, today told International News Service he was "well satisfied" with the progress made at the present conference and declared it is the first he has attended where the atmosphere was so amiable and conducive to an early settlement.

For the first time in five years operators and miners of Western Pennsylvania have linked arms with those of the other three states and are represented at the conference here.

No one would predict the length of time the sub-committee will be in completing details of an agreement after it has been reached. When this is done the general committee then will be summoned and final action taken.

LIEUTENANT GRIFFIS FETED AT CHICAGO

Chicago, Feb. 13 (INS).—Lieut. Collins Hoover Griffiths, whose efforts to kidnap Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, draft dodger, resulted in his imprisonment in Germany, will be the guest of honor at a dinner at the Auditorium hotel tonight, the concluding demonstration in his triumphal return to the city from which he enlisted as a buck private.

Bands blaring "Over There" and cheering crowds greeted him on his arrival late yesterday from New York. Though the streets he formerly tramped as a typewriter salesman he marched as an idolized hero.

At every step he received the American accolade; "Atta boy, Griffiths, atty boy!"
So many invitations awaited Griffiths that he was forced to refuse all. With his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Eugene F. Griffiths, he expected to return to Hamilton, O., the old home town, in a few days.

LABOR GOVERNMENT SUBJECT OF ATTACK IN HOUSE COMMONS

By DAVID M. CHURCH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)
London, Feb. 13.—Stanley Baldwin, former Tory premier, in opening the opposition's attack against the new labor government in Commons today afternoon, expressed doubt if the "time has come when reconciliation of trade with Soviet Russia is possible." He was criticizing the labor government's recognition of the Soviet government.

London, Feb. 13.—The first attack of the opposition against Premier MacDonald's labor government opened in the House of Commons today. The ministry of health was assailed for permitting the local government of Poplar—a metropolitan borough of London—to extend relief to unemployed persons in excess of the amount allotted to other districts. It was claimed that this action would increase taxes.

Former premier Stanley Baldwin was expected to take a leading part in the attack upon the labor government.

The liberal organ, Daily Chronicle (also the personal organ of former Premier David Lloyd George) declared that the liberal members of commons would not support the Tory opposition in Commons. Baldwin is leader of the opposition.

Foreign office officials have amplified the premier's reference to a world conference in his speech of Tuesday. They said MacDonald would not make any decisive move towards convocation of an international conference until the reparations experts make their report upon Germany. They added the Premier believes the nature of the report will make it imperative to appeal

STANDARD OIL GETS INTO TEA POT DOME CASE THRU STACK

By KEVIN L. CLARK

I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

Washington, Feb. 13.—Charging bad faith, fraud and secret dealings, in connection with the leasing of Teapot Dome to Harry F. Sinclair by ex-Secretary of Interior Albert Fall, Leo Stack, wealthy Denver oil man and politician, took the stand in the Senate's oil investigation today and submitted to a grueling cross examination regarding his allegations.

The ramifications of Stack's charges included the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, and subsidiaries which claimed rights in the naval reserve, and which were paid $1,000,000 by Sinclair to quiet claims, he said.

Aside from the million dollars, Stack alleges that the real consideration which the Standard Company obtained from Sinclair was a half interest in the pipe line from the Wyoming fields, required to be constructed by the oil magnate in the lease contract he negotiated with Fall.

Washington, Feb. 13 (INS).—The Senate this afternoon practically launched a worldwide investigation into the activities of American oil speculators by passing a resolution calling up of the Secretary of state to produce all diplomatic correspondence relating to American oil concessions in foreign lands.

Passage of the resolution forecasted a brand new oil investigation as soon as the Secretary of State complies with the request.

SIEGE DECLARED IN RHINELAND TOWNS

Piermasens, Germany, Feb. 13 (INS).—Seventeen persons were killed and more than 20 severely wounded in a violent battle which began here Tuesday afternoon according to figures furnished today by the French Military authorities. Street fighting raged for many hours. Order was restored today.

Berlin, Feb. 13 (INS).—Battles were reported from all parts of the Rhineland Palatinate this afternoon. Following clashes between the separatists and police at Piermasens when nearly a score were killed, disorders broke out in other places, the separatists and anti-secessionists engaging each other in battle.

Martial law has been proclaimed at Piermasens. French troops are patrolling the city to prevent a recurrence of fighting.

Series were wounded in heavy street fighting at Kaiserlautern.

Paris, Feb. 13 (INS).—A state of siege has been proclaimed by the Rhineland commission at Piermasens, in the Rhineland palatinate, said a Coblenz dispatch to the foreign office today. Declaration of a state of siege followed a violent battle at Piermasens between separatists and police in which 14 persons were killed and many wounded.

Eight of the dead were separatists; the other six were policemen.

Two companies of French infantry ordered dissolution of the gymnastic society at Piermasens on the ground that it was inciting workmen against the secessionists.

Washington, Feb. 13 (INS).—Secretary of War Weeks today authorized the use of Army bombing planes to break up ice jams in the Platte and Missouri rivers.

COM. CITIZENSHIP MEETING ATTRACTS SMALL AUDIENCE

Tendency to Pass Buck
On Law Enforcement
Is Shown By Apparent
Lack of Interest.

HAD FINE SPEECHES

The community education meeting at the Clearfield High School auditorium last evening established the fact that there are a whole lot of people, both men and women, who when it comes to a matter of law enforcement and a series of talks on that subject are willing and anxious to "let George do it," and are not of their satisfaction in passing the buck to "George" by failing to lend their presence to any such gathering in which that subject is mained.

Last evening's meeting on the birthday of the Great Emancipator was in line with the nation wide movement designed to educate the people into asserting their belief that his nation cannot long exist as one of the speakers put it, "half drunk and half sober." This meeting was arranged by the county president of the N. C. T. U., assisted by the Clearfield Chamber of Commerce, yet when chairman W. L. Armstrong, called the meeting to order there were but twelve men in the audience and about twice that many women. Before the meeting was concluded ten or a dozen more men came in, and waiting the two on the stage and but two in the audience there were four preachers present. One lone reporter marked the interest of the press in the occasion, although in defense of the fourth estate, it is necessary to state that one of the editors scheduled to represent the press on the program was out of town, while the other was confined to his home by a severe cold.

There has been some criticism of Clearfield and Clearfield people concerning their interest in the enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment, being said on several occasions in our presence by members of thought in our community that there is not too much sentiment in the community for law enforcement. The attendance at last night's meeting would tend to agree with that assertion.

Rev. Armstrong as chairman invoked the Divine blessing after calling the meeting to order. The audience joined in singing American songs which the chairman called for a song from a quartette of young men composed of Bertam Barnes, Clifford A. Shaw, Victor K. Meredith, and Alvin C. Shaw, accompanied by Mr. Neal MacBlain.

At the conclusion of the songs which was entertainingly rendered, Rev. Armstrong introduced County Superintendent W. P. Trostle, who then on "Education for Citizenship" by Trostle called attention to the fact that the American people consist of ten per cent illiterate and made a strong plea for an educated citizenry, declaring "sun-crowned manhood" as the need of the hour and the sure guarantee of respect for and enforcement of all law.

Rev. E. Roy Hauser, of the Lutheran Church, followed with an illuminating talk on "The Church in Promoting Respect for Law." Rev. Hauser mentioned the fact of the sum attendance but said there were enough present to leaven entire Clearfield and hoped all would endeavor to help along that line. He pointed out the duty of the church and chairman in comes are so high that they disappear, the small taxpayer will be left to bear the entire burden. If, on the other hand, rates are placed where they will produce the most revenue from large incomes, then the small taxpayer will be relieved."

To the Garner plan of the Democrats Mr. Coolidge paid his respects in no uncertain terms. Brought forward, he said to have "something different," to face the requirements of the situation, an "attempt to defeat a good measure with a bad measure," a plan "never not the slightest head to the wind of a high tax."

"I would wish to see all the people of this country which it contains," he said of the Mellon plan. "I am opposed to any alteration and compromise." And he stated that his position on the tariff was in complete agreement with the Democratic Standard-bearer, Mr. Carter Glass, and the Houston of "protectionism."

The reductions, he contended, have to be made in the country almost a million dollars every working day.

The President brought to his audience, numbering many men from down to New York, an appreciation of what a cultural distress means to the country, financially and politically.

His Agricultural Remarks.

Without mentioning names he outlined the influence on national legislation of the La Follette, Magnus Johnson and Brandegee, who have on several occasions, "Unsound economic conditions," he said, "are not conducive to sound legislation."

Referring to the response of New York farmers to his recent conference of bankers, he said, "I am glad that America is moving in that direction."

"It will be hard work and less expensive," he stated significantly, "for you to meet this situation in that way, for you will meet it; it will be affected by its economic, political and moral results."

The President reiterated his opposition to the Soldiers' Bonus Bill, contending that while "no one doubts the patriotism of those who advocate the bonus," he was not willing to put a price on the services of the men who fought the war for America.

"America was not waging war for the purpose of securing spoils," he said. "The American soldier did not enter the service for the purpose of securing personal gain."

Mr. Coolidge defended in unmeasured terms the sale of arms to the Obregon government in Mexico. Stating American acceptance of the principle that the Mexicans had the right to "set up and pull down governments" without outside influence, he asserted the right of the United States to extend aid to a friendly power.

Will Protect American Rights.

"I have continued to afford protection in a conference with the requirements of international law," he announced. "I propose to protect American lives and American rights."

The President spoke in terms of the high price of the influence of the three Americans headed by Brigadier General Charles G. Dawes, now seeking to promote a settlement of the reparations problem in Europe. Although they do not represent the American government, he said, "they cannot help but be Americans."

The final day of Lincoln, who broke the shackles, held a race in involuntary servitude caused Mr. Coolidge to draw attention to the present fortunate condition of free labor in the United States.

TRUCK DRIVER GIVES UP $650 TO BANDITS

On Feb. 12 (INS.)—Honor of a furniture truck shortly before today, three masked bandits held up Lewis Orville the driver, and robbed him of $650 in full view of a group of construction workers, who were prevented from interfering by the menacing pistols. The bandits then forced Orville to dismount and made off in the truck.

Labor Government

for a reconstruction conference. Premier MacDonald and his colleagues in the government are hopeful that the attitude of Gen. Charles G. Dawes, president of the first reparations committee, will make American participation in the proposed conference virtually certain.

According to newspaper reports, MacDonald's declaration of policy was not satisfactory to the extremists within his own party, the labor party.

For the most part newspapers commented cautiously upon the MacDonald speech. Little if any enthusiasm was displayed over it.

The Daily Express called it "a poor start." The Times, Daily Telegraph, Daily News and Westminster Gazette found satisfaction in its moderation.

Many newspapers accused the labor party of stealing part of the old legislative program of the Tories.

The press made it plain that the suggestion for an international conference for restoration of the world would be supported but warned that it should not be undertaken until success was assured. Proposals for armament reduction were too indefinite to arouse much interest.

Paris, Feb. 12. (INS.)—French newspaper commented favorably upon most of the parliamentary speech of Premier Ramsay MacDonald of England, but reacted unfavorably to the suggestion of an international conference for restoring Europe.

The press lauded MacDonald's good intentions and his friendly attitude toward France. Most newspapers are of the opinion that world reconstruction and general disarmament should not be attempted at this time, the medium of an international gathering.

"Such a conference would be premature," said the Martin. "We must await, first, the report of the international committee of reparations experts; secondly, consideration of a general reparations plan by the inter-allied reparations commission; and third a security plan approved and studied by the reparations commission."

Reparations committee.

"The Geneva conference permitted Germany and Soviet Russia to consolidate their alliance with one another. Another conference would furnish the occasion for the English to join both the Germans and Russians."

Washington, Feb. 12. (INS.)—The suggestion of Premier Ramsay Mac-

Donald for a world economic conference after the completion of the present reparations inquiry in Berlin and Paris has aroused little interest in official circles here.

In the absence of any formal invitation or diplomatic notice of Great Britain to call such a conference, State Department officials declined to day to discuss the British proposal.

"I suffered for years with stomach trouble and gas continually. Doctors thought I had stomach ulcers or cancer. After last attack they advised going to Rochester, Minn., for an operation. A friend advised trying May's Wonderful Remedy, which I did, and I cannot sing its praises too highly, as I can now eat anything and everything. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists."

Washington, Feb. 12. (INS.)—The suggestion of Premier Ramsay Mac-

In the absence of any formal invitation or diplomatic notice of Great Britain to call such a conference, State Department officials declined to day to discuss the British proposal.

He was testifying in Joe Jackson's suit to recover $19,600 claimed as back salary because of Jackson's dismissal from the Sox after the framed World Series in 1919.

ODDS AND ENDS
AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

Twenty-three elk were killed in Pennsylvania during the open season of 1923, game protectors have reported to the State Game Commission. Pennsylvania had the only open season on elk east of the Rocky Mountains, and the open season here last year was the first in a generation.

Larger numbers of deer and wild turkeys fell before the hunters in this state last year than the year before. Bears, however, showed a greater ability to keep out of the hunter's range, for, despite the reports of a larger number of bears than ever before, fewer were shot than in either of the two preceding seasons. Hunters in 1923 shot 6452 deer last year, an increase of more than 300 over 1922; 6449 wild turkeys, an increase of more than 600 over the year previous, but only 500 bears, as compared with 563 the year before.

Almost an even half-million sportsmen took to the woods during the hunting season, 497,191 residents of this state and 228 from other states being licensed here last year, an increase of more than 25,000 over the year before.

More Small Game Killed.

Although many hunters have not yet sent in the stubs of their licenses, showing the amount of small game killed last year, the reports show that rabbits, squirrels and grouse were more numerous than in other years. Of the 500,000 hunters, 67,000 have reported their bags. These reports show that on an average, each hunter got 6.5 rabbits, 2.4 squirrels and 1.2 grouse. This shows a big increase in the number of squirrels and grouse bagged over previous years.

and the average may be well off by later reports. Rabbits alone show a decrease from 5.1-3 in 1921 and 7.2-3 in 1922 to 6.5 last year, and this falling off is ascribed by the Game Commission to the larger number of hunters afield last year.

The remainder of the reports of hunters on the amount of game bagged, under the law, must be filed not later than June 1.

A man who was a responsible Ford executive for many years—like many others Ford associates he finally quarreled with Henry and quit—declares that Edsel Ford has unusual business ability. "He knows the car backwards and forwards, he knows every nut and bolt and every piece of material that goes into it," this executive assured me. "He isn't interested in a single thing outside of business—and his own family. He is on the job all the time. He knows the business as well as his father does. He isn't puffed up with conceit. He doesn't go round bossing everybody high-handedly. He is a very likeable young man."

No new developments are reported from Penfield and no ray move is looked for for a few days at least as the movement to recede from Clearfield county quietly takes shape. Constable Art Chambers, who has been solicited to raise a company of "lick shooters," he has picked up from time to time, but has thus far refused, waiting at the county seat yesterday taking counsel with Sheriff Tom Lowell. Sheriff Tom told the Constable he expected to remain in the county regardless of what action the home folks took, and Chambers said "by gum, I believe I will, too."

Elk county natives are not stuck on the idea of having the ton down it's off onto them and it begins to seem as though the season will be going to have a hard time of it. Meanwhile Joe Phillips and his rangers are girding up their loins waiting for the call to duty.

EPISCOPALIANS DO
JEWS AND GENTILES

The contest between the Episcopal and Hebrew teams last night in the Y. M. C. A. Inter-Church Bowling League was an exciting one and the rollers as well as the rooters spent most of the evening rooting for each other, hence the low scores. The Hebrew boys with seven men were unable to reach the Episcopal team until the last game, when their two substitutes, Overly and Bonoff, came across with high scores and made the high team of the evening.

Saul Robison, with his usual wit, was able to roll a 301 game in the first that is by knocking all the pins down and the pin setter also. Jacobson passed the honors of champion pinsetter to C. L. Week, declaring there was no comparison between the two. The bowling league was glad to welcome several new faces to the growing crowd of bowling fans, Leod, Dr. Peck, Week, Harris, Burnett and Bonoff. The result of this match was to drop the Hebrew aggregation to second place with the Presbyterian and West Side Methodist teams.

Curwensville's Own Column

Paroled a Thompson yesterday for lying up and coming out.

Duke Wilcox, who has been in the Clearfield hospital for the past three weeks, is now in Curwensville where he will spend the rest of his life recovering from a pneumonia and broken down.

A few evenings ago Chief Clerk pointed out to one John Boyd, a colored man who was living down in one of the shanties on the flat, charging him with selling or giving moonshine to a man, Messrs Daub and Laid, who lived at about seventeen years, who had both to become drunk. Boyd was given a hearing before Judge Boyd Monday night. The evidence was sufficient in the justice's mind to hold Boyd in the sum of $1000 bail, in default of which he was sent to the county jail.

Another case was before the 'Squire the same evening in which Mrs. Clyde Taylor had her husband arrested on several serious charges, the principal of which was threatening her life and non-support. Several witnesses testified to the truth of the wife's accusations. The defendant told his side of the case, and after a hearing, the judge decided that the wife had sufficient evidence to hold her husband for a court trial and asked him to put up an $800 bail bond. Failing to do this, he was also given the same punishment for a visit to the county jail.

The trustees of the Protected Home will hold a meeting on Tuesday evening, and as it will be a business meeting, all who hold shares in the home will be asked to bring a check on hand and take no other part.

Miss Marion LaBorde was taken to the hospital of her daughter, Mrs. Kirk in Clearfield yesterday, the ambulance transporting her thereto. She is slowly recovering from a recent paralytic stroke.

A few weeks ago a meeting of the Baptist church here under the direction of Rev. Boone, an evangelist, drew a hundred and thirty members, and was recorded as a result of the evangelizing labor. Last evening several were immersed in the baptizing at the church, and a host of others are awaiting an opportunity to receive the right of baptism in the waters of the old Susquehanna, as was done in days of yore. Rev. Boone is now conducting a meeting in Clearfield. The Curwensville Baptist church has secured the services of a new pastor, formerly of Mountandale, who is expected to move here with his family at an early date and assume his duties.

Squire John Y. Rafferty, of Grant, was a Curwensville sight on Monday night. He was seeking out the abode of the Progress series and had him in his eye, and also made him his coat sleeve. He alleged that he had been slandered outrageously a few weeks ago when it was stated in an item that he rather favored Curwensville than Grant as a residence, under certain conditions—he could lick more men in his own town with less trouble than he could in Curwensville. We accept his apology this time.

Several sled loads of Curwensville young folks took advantage of the snow and slid to Clearfield last evening.

In the Courts

Attorneys Livelihood & Chase entered suit in Prothonotary Ralston's office yesterday on behalf of the Altoona Wholesale Grocery Company who seek to recover $807.42 from the Coalport Cooperative Association for supplies furnished them.

The jury in the ejectment case of Aaron Phillips, against the United States Refractories Company tried in civil court before Judge A. R. Chase yesterday, returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for the property involved. The case grew out of a lease for Mr. Phillips' fire clay, which the company failed to operate and decided to continue to hold under the minimum royalty clause of their lease.

BISHOP MANN WILL NOT ACCEPT $2,000 SALARY INCREASE

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 13 (INS.)—The Right Rev. Alexander Mann, Bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Pittsburgh in a statement made public today declined for the present the $2,000 a year salary increase granted him in the recent diocesan convention. The principal reason cited by Bishop Mann for his refusal to accept the increase was the comparatively low salaries paid many of the clergymen in this diocese.

Bishop Mann has inaugurated an intensive campaign to obtain a minimum salary of $1,000 annually for unmarried clergy and $2,100 for married.

ONE MAN KILLED, TWO HURT
New Castle, Pa., Feb. 12. (INS.)—Leopold Peratt, 32, was instantly killed, and two other workmen were seriously injured this afternoon when part of the crane at the boiler house of the Carnegie steel mill broke, crashing through the boiler house superstructure, and caught the two men beneath. The crane was hoisting an 11-ton drum at the time of the accident.

THAT'S NOTHING FOR PHILA.

Philadelphia, Feb. 13 (INS.)—Seven men, two of them Republican office holders, sent on trial here today on charges of conspiracy resulting from alleged election frauds in the Fifth Division, 40th ward at the last September primary. Five of the men comprised the election board.

The basis of the Commonwealth's case is that the duly elected board did nothing but sort the vote while strangers and outsiders did the actual counting.

Hair Fringed in England.
Years ago British fashion dictated that every woman should wear a fringe of short hair on the forehead. The fringe became so general that it was advertised in the columns of the "No fringe" club. Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon has revived the practice, wearing a fringe about an inch above the eyebrows, says the Daily Express.

Could All These Makers of the World's Best Cars Be Wrong

Do You Think the Engineers Who Built Buick, Cadillac, Packard, Rolls-Royce, Marmon, and Pierce-Arrow Would Install Mechanical 4-Wheel Brakes If The Principles Were Not Fundamentally Sound.

It is contrary to reason that the world's greatest automobile engineers would adopt FOUR-WHEEL BRAKES if the working principles of the brakes were not as sound as the fact that two and two make four.

And, living up to Buick's slogan of "When Better Cars Are Built, Buick Will Build Them", Buick adopted FOUR-WHEEL BRAKES because the engineers who supervised every detail of the manufacture and design of these cars were thoroughly alive to the possibilities of the FOUR-WHEEL BRAKE.

It is a demonstrable fact that an automobile equipped with FOUR-WHEEL BRAKES may be stopped in a shorter distance than the cars equipped with ordinary brakes. And FOUR-WHEEL BRAKES are making such an impression that Buick has, in the first five months of the 1924 fiscal year, produced 110,000 Buick cars as against 185,000 Buick cars in the entire fiscal year of 1923.

Can such an enormous increase be attributed to anything else but Buick's superiority in engine power, good lines, general service-giving?

To the folks who are skeptical about the FOUR-WHEEL BRAKES, we will gladly give a demonstration of their power to stop a fast moving car in a shorter distance than the car otherwise equipped.

Old Age Should Be Happy—Not a Time of Sickness and Suffering.
Too many people begin to suffer at middle age with constant backache, urinary ill, and rheumatic pains and aches. Weak kidneys are usually the cause, and if neglected, there is danger of hardened arteries, dropsy, gravel or Bright's disease. Help your weakened kidneys with a stimulant diuretic before kidney disease gets a firm hold. Use Doan's Pills. Thousands of old folks recommend Doan's. Here is convincing proof:
O. P. Conklin, prop. of shoe shop 8 Nichols St., residence Turnpike Ave., Paradise, Pa., says: "I had an attack of kidney trouble and was drowsy. I got dizzy and had severe headaches. A pain in the small of my back annoyed me badly when I tried to bend or stoop. Doan's Pills helped me greatly." (Statement given February 18, 1919.)
On Sept. 17, 1923 Mr. Conklin added: "I use Doan's occasionally and think as much of them as ever."

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"
Rub on Good Old Musterole
That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe or even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once. Rub good old Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief.
Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.
As effective as the messy old mustard plaster, does the work without blister. Just rub it on with your finger-tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.
To Mothers: Musterole is now made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole. 35c and 65c. in jars and tubes.

President Coolidge

replying to the President's New York address, Robinson declared Mr. Coolidge soon would be forced by public opinion, not only to dismiss Denby, but other public officials connected with the naval oil leases.

Calling attention to the Senate resolution ordering the leases cancelled and to the Denby ouster resolution, Robinson declared the Senate's opinion reflects the will of a large majority of the people.

"The President, of course, can carry the issue to the country," he added, "but will be sure to do so."

"Notwithstanding his defiant statement, it is respectfully suggested that the President soon may be forced by public opinion to turn out of office every one, including Secretary Denby, who may have encouraged or participated in making the secret leases."

Senator Robinson said the President has power to reject officers whose public behavior justifies the conclusion they will throw every possible obstacle in the way of the Government's success in safeguarding the property which they have recklessly conveyed.

"Retention in office of Secretary Denby," Robinson declared, "means the President for all practical purposes supports the Secretary's policies and approves or acquiesces in his actions."

Senator McKellar, Dem. of Tenn., also hung a challenge at the President. Reading from the executive's speech, the portion in which Coolidge said he would prosecute every Republican found involved, McKellar declared the President explained why he permitted E. L. Doheny, Harry F. Sinclair and ex-Secretary Fall to remain at liberty.

"Every American citizen will applaud the President's statement, but for two weeks every one in Washington has known that former Secretary Fall was bribed by E. L. Doheny and Harry F. Sinclair," McKellar said. "There is a District Attorney in Washington but no steps were taken to indict any one of these three men. If an ex-service man stole a loaf of bread he would be in jail but these three great men have been allowed to remain at liberty. The President should tell us why."

STORE ROBBERS FOILED

Philadelphia, Feb. 13 (INS).—In a running pistol fight this morning three policemen forced four thieves to abandon their truck carrying loot valued at $5,000 stolen in two dry-goods store robberies. Fifty shots were exchanged by the duellists. The robbers escaped.

Community

the matter of law enforcement and promised they would ever be to us, more in holding what has at last been gained."

The quartette then sang "The Rallies" with telling effect.

Judge A. R. Chase was the next speaker on the program. Judge Chase said the law and every law should be enforced, not so much because one believed the law to be right, but because it was the law. He then decided the right of every man to criticize the law, saying he abhorred the "holier than thou" attitude of some people who felt the law above criticism but had no hesitancy in themselves criticizing the courts and officers entrusted with the enforcement of laws. Law enforcement is a personal matter to all good citizens and if a man knows of law violation it is his duty to see that the guilty is prosecuted, without regard to whether the officer did or not.

The Judge said the best way to make a law popular or unpopular was to enforce it, then if it was a bad law the people would see that it was repealed. Along this line he complimented Gov. Smith of New York for vetoing the state enforcement act at the message he wrote accompanying his veto in which he placed the matter plainly before the people. He said in effect this action showed the friend of the enforcement act that it was necessary for them to defend the law and prevent its repeal and thereby did as much for prohibition by that action as did any other one man in the country.

He also spoke of the responsibility of the Judge in handing out sentences. He said the law gave him a wide range in which to act. He was supposed to take into account the defendant's condition, his abilities, dependencies and the possibility of reforming him instead of making him a confirmed criminal.

In closing Judge Chase said if every citizen would accept his responsibility under the law and do his duty, within two years time we would be done with all agitation over the application of the enforcement law.

Dr. W. E. Reilly, representing the medical profession, closed the speaking with a discussion of "The Situation From a Medical Standpoint." Dr. Reilly opened his remarks by stating that he "thanked God he was a Christian and a prohibitionist," and then urged a rigid, bone-dry enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment. He stated that while doctors were authorized under the law to write prescriptions, that privilege should be denied them as unnecessary, because 12 years ago and long before the time of the 18th Amendment the American Medical Association had gone on record against alcohol and had ordered its members to abstain from it. He said it was the duty of the Christian churches to be on guard against any change, or let-up in the enforcement of the dry law.

Rev. Armstrong supplemented what had gone before, in a few brief remarks, and after his pronouncing the benediction the audience retired.

The HOOVER

It BEATS... as it Sweeps as it Cleans

Do your rugs wear as long as you think they should?

When you buy a rug you pay for wearability.

But you will not get all of the wearability out of that rug unless you keep it clean.

And that means more than a weekly broom sweeping and an occasional hand beating.

For a broom will not brush out the embedded grit which cuts the nap and causes rapid wear.

And even if the rug is clean when you finish beating it, gritty dirt soon collects, becomes embedded, and continues to cut and wear.

Moreover, this method requires a lot of back-breaking toil.

But there is an easy way, and a sure way, to get maximum wearability from rugs. Keep them constantly clean by beating and sweeping them once or twice weekly with The Hoover.

In addition, you air-clean them with powerful suction—all in one operation that requires little time and almost no effort.

Then your rugs will wear many years longer, and always look bright and fresh.

Slayer Of Constable Is Being Hotly Pursued

Uniontown, Pa., Feb. 13. (INS.)—Uniontown and Fayette county police authorities, state troopers and private detectives are today in an extensive search for the slayer of Deputy Constable Robert W. Mason, 32, who was shot to death last night in a raid upon an alleged negro gambling joint at the mine town of Continental, N. J., near New York. More than 50 officers are taking part in the manhunt.

Newman D. McLean, state trooper from the Greensburg barracks, who was also shot in the raid, is believed to be out of danger today. Patrolman Harry Cain and James Merchant, a negro, were also slightly wounded in the general fight following Mason's death. Eight negroes were arrested by police early today but the killer is believed to have escaped.

Threats of summary justice if the slayer is found were made by friends of the dead constable, and county authorities were planning to hide the man from their vengeance.

GUILTY IN TEA POT DOME WILL BE PUNISHED

President Coolidge In New York Speech Makes It Plain To All That No Guilty Man Can Hope To Escape

By GEORGE R. HOLMES

N. S. Staff Correspondent

Washington, Feb. 13.—President Coolidge, returned to the White House early tonight pleased with the result of his New York trip—his initial venture into the field of political speech making away from the Capital. Especially gratifying to the President to his political advisers was the manner in which the announcement of the Administration's position on the Teapot Dome scandal was received. No part of his speech was overlooked, nor heard with great indifference or approval, than that in which he said:

"My duty to extend to every citizen the constitutional right to the enjoyment of innocence and to be proven guilty. I want no hue and cry, no shouting of innocent and guilty in the confusion of questions of law with questions of fraud and corruption. There will be immediate adequate, unshaking prosecution, criminal and civil, to punish the guilty and protect the innocent."

While pressure for Secretary Denby's immediate resignation has been considerably lessened in the face of the President's firm stand, it is nevertheless believed by Administration officials that Mr. Coolidge advises that a question of time before the Secretary will be compelled to resign not because of wrongdoing but because once the Government goes into court to recover the lands Denby's position becomes untenable.

Special counsel for the Government will begin legal proceedings to recover the oil lands through an action on the legality of their transfer from the Interior department and validity of the contracts now signed and Doheny's interest.

Special counsel appointed by the President to represent the Administration and in a sense will represent Coolidge personally. Secretary Denby also represents the Administration and is a member of the President's official family.

This would become an intolerable situation, it was pointed out by Administration leaders today. Lawyers Denby and Doheny might well be the special counsel or the members represented the government.

There will be no haste about Denby's retirement. He remains in the cabinet until every question of the hue and cry referred to by the President has disappeared. Denby said, he will quietly resign when the time is clear.

Washington, Feb. 13 (INS).—President Coolidge today was challenged by Senator Robinson, Democrat of the Senate, to "carry the country" in "defense" of Secretary Denby. (Continued on Page Seven)

GARFIELD MAY TAKE PLACE OF STRAWN AS OIL PROBE COUNSEL

Washington, Feb. 13 (INS).—In the event of opposition that has developed in the Senate to the selection of Simeon Strawn of Chicago, as one of the special counsel appointed by the President to prosecute the naval cases, it was strongly intimated that the White House today, Simeon Strawn may retire and that Arthur A. Garfield, Secretary of the Navy in the Roosevelt Administration, be appointed in his stead. Mr. Coolidge had a conference with Strawn this morning. Later called in Dr. Charles E. Smith, a conservative, who is understood to have none of the "progressive" connection which led to the opposition to Strawn.

OUTSTANDING FEATURES OF PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

Outstanding features of President Coolidge's address before the National Republican Club in New York last night follow:
A pledge to push the oil lease investigation to the limit.
Advocacy of a nation-wide propaganda to compel favorable action on the Mellon tax cut plan.
Intimation that the United States would be willing to go into a further conference to limit armaments.
Sustains sales of arms to Obregon and says United States will continue to support him.
Intimates United States may participate in the debt settlements now being worked out in Europe.
Declares country's industries in most flourishing condition since war-time period.
Prosperity of farmers is being restored through Federal relief.
Nation is paying off its debt at the rate of $500,000,000 each year.

New York, N. Y., Feb. 13, 1924.—

Calvin Coolidge discarded in New York last night the mantle of an inherited party leadership to appear in a cloak of his own cutting.

He renounced no part of his legacy from the Harding administration, but in this, his first address as President outside of the national capital, he enunciated his own policies, for which he will seek endorsement of the American people.

The President's Lincoln Day speech, delivered to 2000 applauding hosts of his party assembled at a Waldorf banquet by the National Republican Club, was a companion message to his first address to Congress in December.

It struck those who heard it as clear, courageous and concise in its every reference to Federal tax reduction, the soldiers' bonus bill, Mexico, Europe, labor, agricultural relief and Teapot Dome.

The President's first pilgrimage from the capital was a continuous ovation. Blase old New York stood on street curbs in snow and cold to bid him greeting. It crowded his hotel and was massed at his every turn in his seven-hour stay in the metropolis. New York seemed anxious not only to see Mr. Coolidge, but to applaud him. This modern "Bagdad-on-the-Subway," inured to celebrities, froze its cars and its toes for a glimpse of the man it had ignored as vice president because it did not know him.

Opening Gun of Campaign.
His address tonight was punctuated by interruptions of applause. The Coolidge manner of saying things in simple, understandable fashion captivated this New York audience, as it had amazed a joint session of Congress three months before. He was just as precise and just as effective.

The impression seemed general that Mr. Coolidge was firing the opening gun of his campaign for the presidency. No trace of political cant or demagoguery betrayed his purpose, but his blunt statement of policy carried conviction.

Because the Teapot Dome scandal was uppermost in the minds of so many of those who heard him, his ringing denials to the Senate of last night echoing in every quarter of New York today, the President struck straight from the shoulder in his statement of policy. He gave further notice to a surly Senate, just now acting more like a quarrelsome board of aldermen, that he was not to be moved by political threat into taking unwarranted action against any one.

"I want no hue and cry, no mingling of innocent and guilty in unthinking condemnation," Mr. Coolidge asserted as the banquet room resounded with cheers. "No confusion of mere questions of law with questions of fraud and corruption."

"It is at such a time that the quality of our citizenry is tested—unflinching toward evil, fair-minded and intent upon the requirements of due process, the shield of the innocent and the safeguard of society itself. I ask the support of our people as Chief Magistrate, intent on the enforcement of our laws without fear or favor, no matter who is hurt or what the consequences."

The President argued for the Mellon tax reduction program in a manner calculated to bring that issue be-

AUTHORITIES GET A LINE ON RECENT "PEN" EXPLOSION

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 13 (INS).—City and county investigating agencies co-operating with the trustees of the Western Penitentiary at River side today were painstakingly piecing together shreds of evidence in their hunt for the outside confederates alleged to have been the powers behind the explosion to the Penitentiary on Monday. Fred Daugherty, a former prisoner in the penitentiary was taken into custody today and authorities declared valuable leads had been obtained from questioning him.

Two women of the Pittsburgh underworld, were mentioned by Daugherty as conspirators in the dynamite plot at the prison which resulted in two deaths. No suspicion attaches to Daugherty, it was announced, but it was thought his knowledge of prison affairs might be of value to the probe.

CLEARFIELD BOY A DIRECTOR

John G. Lytle, Jr., member of the firm of Lytle Bros., and in charge of the firm's shoe store at Lewistown, Pa., is one of the Board of Directors of the recently organized Mifflin county Building and Loan Association, a $2,000,000 concern.

fore the country in a new and favorable light.

"To Relieve the Country."
"I think it is easy enough to see," he said, "that I wish to include in the program a reduction in the high surtax rates, not that small incomes may be required to pay more and large incomes be required to pay less, but that more revenue may be secured from large incomes and taxes on small incomes may be reduced; not because I wish to relieve the wealthy, but because I wish to relieve the country."

Mr. Coolidge traced a steer from a farmer's pasture to the packer, the tanner, the shoe manufacturer, to various distributing agencies and back to the farmer as a pair of shoes, to illustrate how taxes are passed along to the consumer. He invoked other home ways of presenting the surtax issue to the man in the street.

To show that incentive to business expansion is chilled by graduated surtaxes which reduce income as it grows larger—if that seem not too paradoxical—the President said:

"If we had a tax whereby on the first working day the Government took 5 per cent of your wages, on the second day 10 per cent, on the third day 20 per cent, on the fourth day 30 per cent, on the fifth day 50 per cent and on the sixth day 60 per cent, how many of you would continue to work on the last two days of the week? It is the same with capital. Surplus income will go into tax-exempt securities. It will refuse to take the risk incidental to embarking in business."

Aid to Small Taxpayer.
Then, again, he stated an obvious fact to drive home a telling argument:

"I agree perfectly with those who wish to relieve the small taxpayer by getting the largest possible contribution from the people with large incomes. But if the rates on large in-

COAL OPERATORS NOT IN FAVOR OF LONG TERM CONTRACT

Favor Continuance of
Present Wage Scale
But Think Four Years
a Little Too Long.

IS BEING DISCUSSED

Jacksonville, Fla., Feb. 13 (INS).—The sub-committee deliberating over a new wage scale for miners of the central competitive district, met in executive session today.

The general committee has left all power of arbitration to this body and will not convene again until it has reached an agreement.

It was freely predicted by leaders of both miners and operators that there will be no discussion. The miners are asking for a continuance of the present wage scale, with a four year contract.

Operators intimated that the same wage scale would be granted but that the four year contract would be opposed. They pointed out that this was too long a period for any wage scale to extend and further argued that the next conference would fail, as this, on the eve of a presidential year.

This, they said, was undesirable because of possible political effects. John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, and other officers of the organization, today were meeting with the sub-committee. This group is composed of two miners and two operators from each section of the central competitive district.

Several of the delegates to the conference entrained for their homes last night and today, stating that no difficulties were anticipated in reaching an agreement and that the sub-committee would well attend to matters. Other members of the general committee were playing golf and seeking amusement with winter visitors.

William Green, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers and also secretary of the general committee, today told International News Service he was "well satisfied" with the progress made at the present conference and declared it is the first he has attended where the atmosphere was so amiable and conducive to an early settlement.

For the first time in five years operators and miners of Western Pennsylvania have linked arms with those of the other three states and are represented at the conference here.

No one would predict the length of time the sub-committee will be in completing details of an agreement after it has been reached. When this is done the general committee then will be summoned and final action taken.

LIEUTENANT GRIFFIS FETED AT CHICAGO

Chicago, Feb. 13 (INS).—Lieut. Collins Hoover Griffith, whose efforts to kidnap Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, draft dodger, resulted in his imprisonment in Germany, will be the guest of honor at a dinner at the Auditorium hotel tonight, the concluding demonstration in his triumphal return to the city from which he enlisted as a buck private.

Bands blaring "Over There" and cheering crowds greeted him on his arrival late yesterday from New York. Though the streets he formerly tramped as a typewriter salesman he marched as an idolized hero.

At every step he received the American accolade; "Atta boy, Griffiths, atty boy."

So many invitations awaited Griffiths that he was forced to refuse all. With his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Eugene F. Griffiths, he expected to return to Hamilton, O., the old home town, in a few days.

LABOR GOVERNMENT SUBJECT OF ATTACK IN HOUSE COMMONS

By DAVID M. CHURCH
(N. S. Staff Correspondent.)
London, Feb. 13.—Stanley Baldwin, former Tory premier, in opening the opposition's attack against the new labor government in Commons today afternoon, expressed doubt if the "time has come when reconciliation of trade with Soviet Russia is possible." He was criticizing the labor government's recognition of the Soviet government.

London, Feb. 13.—The first attack of the opposition against Premier MacDonald's labor government opened in the House of Commons today. The ministry of health was assailed for permitting the local government of Poplar—a metropolitan borough of London—to extend relief to unemployed persons in excess of the amount allotted to other districts. It was claimed that this action would increase taxes.

Former premier Stanley Baldwin was expected to take a leading part in the attack upon the labor government.

The liberal organ, Daily Chronicle (also the personal organ of former Premier David Lloyd George) declared that the liberal members of commons would not support the Tory opposition in Commons. Baldwin is leader of the opposition.

Foreign office officials have amplified the premier's reference to a world conference in his speech of Tuesday. They said MacDonald would not make any decisive move towards convocation of an international conference until the reparations experts make their report upon Germany. They added the Premier believes the nature of the report will make it imperative to appeal

STANDARD OIL GETS INTO TEA POT DOME CASE THRU STACK

By KEVIN L. CLARK

N. S. Staff Correspondent

Washington, Feb. 13.—Charging bad faith, fraud and secret dealings, in connection with the leasing of Teapot Dome to Harry F. Sinclair by ex-Secretary of Interior Albert Fall, Leo Stack, wealthy Denver oil man and politician, took the stand in the Senate's oil investigation today and submitted to a grueling cross examination regarding his allegations.

The ramifications of Stack's charges included the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, and subsidiaries which claimed rights in the naval reserve, and which were paid $1,000,000 by Sinclair to quiet claims, he said.

Aside from the million dollars, Stack alleges that the real consideration which the Standard Company obtained from Sinclair was a half interest in the pipe line from the Wyoming fields, required to be constructed by the oil magnate in the lease contract he negotiated with Fall.

Washington, Feb. 13 (INS).—The Senate this afternoon practically launched a worldwide investigation into the activities of American oil speculators by passing a resolution calling up of the Secretary of state to produce all diplomatic correspondence relating to American oil concessions in foreign lands.

Passage of the resolution forecasted a brand new oil investigation as soon as the Secretary of State complies with the request.

SIEGE DECLARED IN RHINELAND TOWNS

Piermasens, Germany, Feb. 13 (INS).—Seventeen persons were killed and more than 20 severely wounded in a violent battle which began here Tuesday afternoon according to figures furnished today by the French Military authorities. Street fighting raged for many hours. Order was restored today.

Berlin, Feb. 13 (INS).—Battles were reported from all parts of the Rhineland Palatinate this afternoon. Following clashes between the Separatists and police at Piermasens when nearly a score were killed, disorders broke out in other places, the Separatists and anti-secessionists engaging each other in battle.

Martial law has been proclaimed at Piermasens. French troops are patrolling the city to prevent a recurrence of fighting.

Series were wounded in heavy street fighting at Kaiserlautern.

Paris, Feb. 13 (INS).—A state of siege has been proclaimed by the Rhineland commission at Piermasens, in the Rhineland palatinate, said a Coblenz dispatch to the foreign office today. Declaration of a state of siege followed a violent battle at Piermasens between separatists and police in which 14 persons were killed and many wounded.

Eight of the dead were separatists; the other six were policemen.

Two companies of French infantry restored order.

The Rhineland commission has ordered dissolution of the gymnastic society at Piermasens on the ground that it was inciting workmen against the secessionists.

comes are so high that they disappear, the small taxpayer will be left to bear the entire burden. If, on the other hand, rates are placed where they will produce the most revenue from large incomes, then the small taxpayer will be relieved.

To the Garner plan of the Democrats Mr. Coolidge paid his respects in no uncertain terms. Brought forward, he said to have "something different," to face the requirements of the situation, an "attempt to defeat a good measure with a bad measure," a plan "never not the slightest head to the wind of a high tax."

"I would wish to see all the people of this country which it contains," he said of the Mellon plan, "I am opposed to any alteration and compromise." And he stated that his position on the tariff was in complete agreement with the Democratic Standard-bearer, Mr. Carter Glass, and the House of Representatives.

The reductions, he contended, "are to the country almost a million dollars every working day."

The President brought to his audience, numbering many men from down New York, an appreciation of what a cultural distress means to the country, financially and politically.

Hits Agricultural Rivals.

Without mentioning names he outlined the influence on national legislation of the La Follette, Magnus Johnson and Brandegee, who have on several occasions, "Unsound economic conditions," he said, "are not conducive to sound legislation."

Referring to the response of New York farmers to his recent conference of bankers, he said, "I am glad that America is moving in that direction."

"It will be hard work and less expensive," he stated significantly, "for you to meet this situation in that way, for you will meet it; it will be affected by its economic, political and moral results."

The President reiterated his opposition to the Soldiers' Bonus Bill, contending that while "no one doubts the patriotism of those who advocate the bonus," he was not willing to put a price on the services of the men who fought the war for America.

"America was not waging war for the purpose of securing spoils," he said. "The American soldier did not enter the service for the purpose of securing personal gain."

Mr. Coolidge defended in unmeasured terms the sale of arms to the Obregon government in Mexico. Stating American acceptance of the principle that the Mexicans had the right to "set up and pull down governments" without outside influence, he asserted the right of the United States to extend aid to a friendly power.

Will Protect American Rights.

"I have continued to afford protection in a conference with the requirements of international law," he announced. "I propose to protect American life and American rights."

The President spoke in terms of the high price of the influence of the three Americans headed by Brigadier General Charles G. Dawes, now seeking to promote a settlement of the reparations problem in Europe. Although they do not represent the American government, he said, "they cannot help but be Americans."

The final day of Lincoln, who broke the shackles, held a race in involuntary servitude caused Mr. Coolidge to draw attention to the present fortunate condition of free labor in the United States.

TRUCK DRIVER GIVES UP $650 TO BANDITS

On Feb. 12 (INS.)—Honor of a furniture truck shortly before today, three masked bandits held up Lewis Orville the driver, and robbed him of $650 in full view of a gang of construction workers, who were prevented from interfering by the menacing pistols. The bandits then forced Orville to dismount and made off in the truck.

for a reconstruction conference. Premier MacDonald and his colleagues in the government are hopeful that the attitude of Gen. Charles G. Dawes, president of the first reparations committee, will make American participation in the proposed conference virtually certain.

According to newspaper reports, MacDonald's declaration of policy was not satisfactory to the extremists within his own party, the labor party.

For the most part newspapers commented cautiously upon the MacDonald speech. Little if any enthusiasm was displayed over it.

The Daily Express called it "a poor start." The Times, Daily Telegraph, Daily News and Westminster Gazette found satisfaction in its moderation.

Many newspapers accused the labor party of stealing part of the old legislative program of the Tories.

The press made it plain that the suggestion for an international conference for restoration of the world would be supported but warned that it should not be undertaken until success was assured. Proposals for armament reduction were too indefinite to arouse much interest.

Paris, Feb. 12. (INS.)—French newspaper commented favorably upon most of the parliamentary speech of Premier Ramsay MacDonald of England, but reacted unfavorably to the suggestion of an international conference for restoring Europe.

The press lauded MacDonald's good intentions and his friendly attitude toward France. Most newspapers are of the opinion that world reconstruction and general disarmament should not be attempted at this time, the medium of an international gathering.

"Such a conference would be premature," said the Martin. "We must await, first, the report of the international committee of reparations experts; secondly, consideration of a general reparations plan by the inter-allied reparations commission; and third a security plan approved and studied by the reparations commission."

Reparations committee: "The Geneva conference permitted Germany and Soviet Russia to consolidate their alliance with one another. Another conference would furnish the occasion for the English to join both the Germans and Russians."

Washington, Feb. 12. (INS.)—The suggestion of Premier Ramsay Mac-

Harrisburg, Pa.—"About a year ago when I was in an anemic condition, I was nervous, without appetite and lost flesh. "BLACK SOCK" GOES TO JAIL

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 12 (INS.)—Oscar "Happy" Felsch, former Chicago White Sox outfielder, was led from the witness stand to a cell in the county jail today, a prisoner charged with perjury as the result of his testimony that signatures on his 1920 contract and a letter were not his.

He was testifying in Joe Jackson's suit to recover $19,600 claimed as back salary because of Jackson's dismissal from the Sox after the framed World Series in 1919.

LAND FRAUDS ARE ALLEGED IN SENATE

Washington, Feb. 12. (INS.)—The Senate this afternoon ordered a formal investigation into charges of land frauds brought against a group of Texas land companies and R. B. Creager, former Republican national committeeman from Texas.

Women to attract must Radiate Health!

BEAUTY is the magnet which draws all eyes—and back of beauty—health—working silently—Red blood tingling through the veins—the glow of youth in the cheeks—the spring of eagerness, of vim, of vitality in the walk—the ever graceful air, unrestrained by care or worry—All the charms of beauty. All the works of health.

Men are fascinated by the charms of beauty. Women gaze with envy, secretly jealous, perhaps—wondering—hoping—praying for that attractiveness that is not theirs.

But why the wondering—the hoping—the praying for that coveted attractiveness—that beauty. Good looks is the barometer of one's condition. Good health radiates beauty. S. S. S. purifies the blood—creates new red blood cells—rids the system of impurities which make beauty and attractiveness impossible. As women to attract must radiate health so must they keep their systems free from impurities and their red blood cells ever increasing. S. S. S. does both.

S. S. S., since 1828, has been riding the system of impurities—pimples, blackheads, boils, eczema and rheumatism—building red blood cells—aiding women to be attractive by radiating health. S. S. S. is made of carefully selected herbs and barks, scientifically prepared and proportioned. All good drug stores carry S. S. S. It is more economical to purchase the large size bottle.

Twenty-three elk were killed in Pennsylvania during the open season of 1923, game protectors have reported to the State Game Commission. Pennsylvania had the only open season on elk east of the Rocky Mountains, and the open season here last year was the first in a generation.

Larger numbers of deer and wild turkeys fell before the hunters in this state last year than the year before. Bears, however, showed a greater ability to keep out of the hunter's range, for, despite the reports of a larger number of bears than ever before, fewer were shot than in either of the two preceding seasons. Hunters in 1923 shot 6482 deer last year, an increase of more than 300 over 1922; 6449 wild turkeys, an increase of more than 600 over the year previous, but only 500 bears, as compared with 563 the year before.

Almost an even half-million sportsmen took to the woods during the hunting season, 497,191 residents of this state and 228 from other states being licensed here last year, an increase of more than 25,000 over the year before.

More Small Game Killed.

Although many hunters have not yet sent in the stubs of their licenses, showing the amount of small game killed last year, the reports show that rabbits, squirrels and grouse were more numerous than in other years. Of the 500,000 hunters, 67,000 have reported their bags. These reports show that on an average, each hunter got 6.5 rabbits, 2.4 squirrels and 1.2 grouse. This shows a big increase in the number of squirrels and grouse bagged over previous years.

and the average may be well off by later reports. Rabbits alone show a decrease from 5.1-3 in 1921 and 7.2-3 in 1922 to 6.5 last year, and this falling off is ascribed by the Game Commission to the larger number of hunters afield last year.

The remainder of the reports of hunters on the amount of game bagged, under the law, must be filed not later than June 1.

A man who was a responsible Ford executive for many years—like many others Ford associates he finally quarreled with Henry and quit—declares that Edsel Ford has unusual business ability. "He knows the car backwards and forwards, he knows every nut and bolt and every piece of material that goes into it," this executive assured me. "He isn't interested in a single thing outside of business—and his own family. He is on the job all the time. He knows the business as well as his father does. He isn't puffed up with conceit. He doesn't go round bossing everybody high-handedly. He is a very likeable young man."

No new developments are reported from Penfield and no new move is looked for for a few days at least as the movement to recede from Clearfield county quietly takes shape. Constable Art Chambers, who has been solicited to raise a company of "lick shooters," he has picked up from time to time, but has thus far refused, waiting at the county seat yesterday taking counsel with Sheriff Tom Lowell. Sheriff Tom told the Constable he expected to remain in the county regardless of what action the home folks took, and Chambers said "by gum, I believe I will, too."

Elk county natives are not stuck on the idea of having the ton down it's off onto them and it begins to seem as though the season will be going to have a hard time of it. Meanwhile Joe Phillips and his rangers are girding up their loins waiting for the call to duty.

EPISCOPALIANS DO
JEWS AND GENTILES

The contest between the Episcopal and Hebrew teams last night in the Y. M. C. A. Inter-Church Bowling League was an exciting one and the rollers as well as the rooters spent most of the evening rooting for each other, hence the low scores. The Hebrew boys with seven men were unable to reach the Episcopal team until the last game, when their two substitutes, Overly and Bonoff, came into the high scores and made the high stand of the evening.

Saul Robison, with his usual wit, was able to roll a 301 game in the first that is by knocking all the pins down and the pin setter also. Jacobson passed the honors of champion bowler to C. L. Week, declaring there was no comparison between the two. The bowling league was glad to welcome several new faces to the growing crowd of bowling fans, Leod, Dr. Peck, Week, Harris, Bonoff and Robison. The result of this match was to drop the Hebrew aggregation to second place with the Presbyterian and West Side Methodist teams.

Curwensville's Own Column

Paroled a Thompson yesterday for lying up and coming out.

Duke Wilcox, who has been in the Clearfield hospital for the past three weeks, is now in Curwensville where he will spend the rest of his life after being freed from a long and painful illness.

A few evenings ago Chief Clerk pointed out to one John Boyd, a colored man who was living down in one of the shanties on the flat, charging him with selling or giving moonshine to a man, Messrs Daub and Laid, who lived at about seventeen years, who had both to become drunk. Boyd was given a hearing before Judge Dake Monday night. The evidence was sufficient in the justice's mind to hold Boyd in the sum of $1000 bail, in default of which he was sent to the county jail.

Another case was before the 'Squire' the same evening in which Mrs. Clyde Taylor had her husband arrested on several serious charges, the principal of which was threatening her life and that of her child. Several witnesses testified to the truth of the wife's accusations. The defendant told his side of the case, and after a hearing, the judge decided that the wife had sufficient evidence to hold her husband for a court trial and asked him to put up an $800 bail bond. Failing to do this, he was also given the same punishment for a visit to the county jail.

The trustees of the Protected Home will hold a meeting on Tuesday evening, and as it will be a business meeting, all who hold shares in the home will be asked to bring a check on hand and take no other part.

Miss Marion LaBorde was taken to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Kirk in Clearfield yesterday, the ambulance transporting her thereto. She is slowly recovering from a recent paralytic stroke.

A few weeks ago a meeting was held at the Baptist church here under the direction of Rev. Boone, an evangelist, who had a hundred and thirty converts, who were recorded as a result of the evangelizing labor. Last evening several were immersed in the baptizing at the church, and a host of others are awaiting an opportunity to receive the right of baptism in the waters of the old Susquehanna, as was done in days of yore. Rev. Boone is now conducting a meeting in Clearfield. The Curwensville Baptist church has secured the services of a new pastor, formerly of Mountandale, who is expected to move here with his family at an early date and assume his duties.

Squire John Y. Rafferty, of Granton, was a Curwensville sight on Monday night. He was seeking out the abode of the Progress series and had him in his eye, and also made him his coat sleeve. He alleged that he had been slandered outrageously a few weeks ago when it was stated in an item that he rather favored Curwensville than Granton as a residence, under certain conditions—he could lick more men in his own town with less trouble than he could in Curwensville. We accept his apology this time.

Several sled loads of Curwensville young folks took advantage of the snow and slid to Clearfield last evening.

In the Courts

Attorneys Livelihood & Chase entered suit in Prothonotary Ralston's office yesterday on behalf of the Altoona Wholesale Grocery Company who seek to recover $807.42 from the Coalport Cooperative Association for supplies furnished them.

The jury in the ejectment case of Aaron Phillips, against the United States Refractories Company tried in civil court before Judge A. R. Chase yesterday, returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for the property involved. The case grew out of a lease for Mr. Phillips' fire clay, which the company failed to operate and decided to continue to hold under the minimum royalty clause of their lease.

BISHOP MANN WILL NOT ACCEPT $2,000 SALARY INCREASE

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 13 (INS.)—The Right Rev. Alexander Mann, Bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Pittsburgh in a statement made public today declined for the present the $2,000 a year salary increase granted him in the recent diocesan convention. The principal reason cited by Bishop Mann for his refusal to accept the increase was the comparatively low salaries paid many of the clergymen in this diocese.

Bishop Mann has inaugurated an intensive campaign to obtain a minimum salary of $1,000 annually for unmarried clergy and $2,100 for married.

ONE MAN KILLED, TWO HURT
New Castle, Pa., Feb. 12. (INS.)—Leopold Peratt, 32, was instantly killed, and two other workmen were seriously injured this afternoon when part of the crane at the boiler house of the Carnegie steel mill broke, crashing through the boiler house superstructure, and caught the two men beneath. The crane was hoisting an 11-ton drum at the time of the accident.

THAT'S NOTHING FOR PHILA.

Philadelphia, Feb. 13 (INS.)—Seven men, two of them Republican office holders, sent on trial here today on charges of conspiracy resulting from alleged election frauds in the Fifth Division, 40th ward at the last September primary. Five of the men comprised the election board.

The basis of the Commonwealth's case is that the duly elected board did nothing but sort the vote while strangers and outsiders did the actual counting.

Hair Fringed in England.
Years ago British fashion dictated that every woman should wear a fringe of short hair on the forehead. The fringe became so general that it was almost universal. In recent years, however, the fringe has been revived. The practice of wearing a fringe about an inch above the eyebrows, says the Daily Express.

Could All These Makers of the World's Best Cars Be Wrong

Do You Think the Engineers Who Built Buick, Cadillac, Packard, Rolls-Royce, Marmon, and Pierce-Arrow Would Install Mechanical 4-Wheel Brakes If The Principles Were Not Fundamentally Sound.

It is contrary to reason that the world's greatest automobile engineers would adopt FOUR-WHEEL BRAKES if the working principles of the brakes were not as sound as the fact that two and two make four.

And, living up to Buick's slogan of "When Better Cars Are Built, Buick Will Build Them", Buick adopted FOUR-WHEEL BRAKES because the engineers who supervised every detail of the manufacture and design of these cars were thoroughly alive to the possibilities of the FOUR-WHEEL BRAKE.

It is a demonstrable fact that an automobile equipped with FOUR-WHEEL BRAKES may be stopped in a shorter distance than the cars equipped with ordinary brakes. And FOUR-WHEEL BRAKES are making such an impression that Buick has, in the first five months of the 1924 fiscal year, produced 110,000 Buick cars as against 185,000 Buick cars in the entire fiscal year of 1923.

Can such an enormous increase be attributed to anything else but Buick's superiority in engine power, good lines, general service-giving?

To the folks who are skeptical about the FOUR-WHEEL BRAKES, we will gladly give a demonstration of their power to stop a fast moving car in a shorter distance than the car otherwise equipped.

Old Age Should Be Happy—Not a Time of Sickness and Suffering. Too many people begin to suffer at middle age with constant backache, urinary ail, and rheumatic pains and aches. Weak kidneys are usually the cause, and if neglected, there is danger of hardened arteries, dropsy, gravel or Bright's disease. Help your weakened kidneys with a stimulant diuretic before kidney disease gets a firm hold. Use Doan's Pills. Thousands of old folks recommend Doan's. Here is convincing proof: O. P. Conklin, prop. of shoe shop 8 Nichols St., residence Turnpike Ave., Paradise, Pa., says: "I had an attack of kidney trouble and was drowsy. I got dizzy and had severe headaches. A pain in the small of my back annoyed me badly when I tried to bend or stoop. Doan's Pills helped me greatly." (Statement given February 18, 1919.) On Sept. 17, 1923 Mr. Conklin added: "I use Doan's occasionally and think as much of them as ever." 60c. at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu". Rub on Good Old Musterole. That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe or even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once. Rub good old Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief. Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold. As effective as the messy old mustard plaster, does the work without blister. Just rub it on with your finger-tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief. To Mothers: Musterole is now made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole. 35c and 65c. in jars and tubes.

FUNERAL OF MRS. FRANK HEBERLING

The funeral of Mrs. Frank Heberling, who died at the Clearfield hospital on Friday afternoon of peritonitis following an attack of appendicitis, took place from her late home in Paradise Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The services were in charge of Rev. E. C. Reeve and interment was in Mt. Joy cemetery. The deceased was aged 29 years, 11 months and 25 days and is survived by her husband.

A precious one from us has gone. A voice we loved is stilled. A place is vacant in the home. Which never can be filled. God in His wisdom has recalled. The boon his love had given; And though the body slumbers here, The soul is safe in Heaven.

Darling Anne, thou hast left us. And our loss we deeply feel; But 'tis God that hath bereft us— He can all our sorrows heal. Yet again we hope to meet her. When the day of life hath fled. And in Heaven in joy to greet her. Where no farewell tears are shed.

The meetings last night were marked by an increased interest. You should have been there. Don't miss going tonight. Meetings held at Mrs. E. K. Moore's, 213 S. Fourth. Mrs. E. E. Clover, Daisy street. Frank Cole, Hillsdale. Baptist church, N. Second street. Mrs. Mae Rummings, S. 4th street.

President Coolidge

replying to the President's New York address, Robinson declared Mr. Coolidge soon would be forced by public opinion, not only to dismiss Denby, but other public officials connected with the naval oil leases.

Calling attention to the Senate resolution ordering the leases cancelled and to the Denby ouster resolution, Robinson declared the Senate's opinion reflects the will of a large majority of the people.

"The President, of course, can carry the issue to the country," he added, "but will be sure to lose it."

"Notwithstanding his defiant statement, it is respectfully suggested that the President soon may be forced by public opinion to turn out of office every one, including Secretary Denby, who may have encouraged or participated in making the secret leases."

Senator Robinson said the President has power to reject officers whose public behavior justifies the conclusion they will throw every possible obstacle in the way of the Government's success in safeguarding the property which they have recklessly conveyed.

"Retention in office of Secretary Denby," Robinson declared, "means the President for all practical purposes supports the Secretary's policies and approves or acquiesces in his actions."

Senator McKellar, Dem. of Tenn., also hung a challenge at the President. Reading from the executive's speech, the portion in which Coolidge said he would prosecute every Republican found involved, McKellar declared the President explained why he permitted E. L. Doheny, Harry F. Sinclair and ex-Secretary Fall to remain at liberty.

"Every American citizen will applaud the President's statement, but for two weeks every one in Washington has known that former Secretary Fall was bribed by E. L. Doheny and Harry F. Sinclair," McKellar said. "There is a District Attorney in Washington but no steps were taken to indict any one of these three men. If an ex-service man stole a loaf of bread he would be in jail but these three great men have been allowed to remain at liberty. The President should tell us why."

STORE ROBBERS FOILED

Philadelphia, Feb. 13 (INS).—In a running pistol fight this morning three policemen forced four thieves to abandon their truck carrying loot valued at $5,000 stolen in two dry-goods store robberies. Fifty shots were exchanged by the duellists. The robbers escaped.

the matter of law enforcement and promised they would ever be to the law in holding what has at last been gained.

The quartette then sang "The Rallies" with telling effect.

Judge A. R. Chase was the next speaker on the program. Judge Chase said the law and every law should be enforced, not so much because one believed the law to be right, but because it was the law. He then decided the right of every man to criticize the law, saying he abhorred the "holier than thou" attitude of some people who felt the law above criticism but had no hesitancy in themselves criticizing the courts and officers entrusted with the enforcement of laws. Law enforcement is a personal matter to all good citizens and if a man knows of law violation it is his duty to see that the guilty is prosecuted, without regard to whether the officer did or not.

The Judge said the best way to make a law popular or unpopular was to enforce it, then if it was a bad law the people would see that it was repealed. Along this line he complimented Gov. Smith of New York for vetoing the state enforcement act at the message he wrote accompanying his veto in which he placed the matter plainly before the people. He said in effect this action showed the friend of the enforcement act that it was necessary for them to defend the law and prevent its repeal and thereby did as much for prohibition by that action as did any other one man in the country.

He also spoke of the responsibility of the Judge in handing out sentences. He said the law gave him a wide range in which to act. He was supposed to take into account the defendant's condition, his abilities, dependencies and the possibility of reforming him instead of making him a confirmed criminal.

In closing Judge Chase said if every citizen would accept his responsibility under the law and do his duty, within two years time we would be done with all agitation over the application of the enforcement law.

Dr. W. E. Reilly, representing the medical profession, closed the speaking with a discussion of "The Situation From a Medical Standpoint." Dr. Reilly opened his remarks by stating that he "thanked God he was a Christian and a prohibitionist," and then urged a rigid, bone-dry enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment. He stated that while doctors were authorized under the law to write prescriptions, that privilege should be denied them as unnecessary, because 12 years ago and long before the time of the 18th Amendment the American Medical Association had gone on record against alcohol and had ordered its members to abstain from it. He said it was the duty of the Christian churches to be on guard against any change, or let-up in the enforcement of the dry law.

Rev. Armstrong supplemented what had gone before, in a few brief remarks, and after his pronouncing the benediction the audience retired.

The HOOVER

It BEATS... as it Sweeps as it Cleans

Do your rugs wear as long as you think they should?

When you buy a rug you pay for wearability.

But you will not get all of the wearability out of that rug unless you keep it clean.

And that means more than a weekly broom sweeping and an occasional hand beating.

For a broom will not brush out the embedded grit which cuts the nap and causes rapid wear.

And even if the rug is clean when you finish beating it, gritty dirt soon collects, becomes embedded, and continues to cut and wear.

Moreover, this method requires a lot of back-breaking toil.

But there is an easy way, and a sure way, to get maximum wearability from rugs. Keep them constantly clean by beating and sweeping them once or twice weekly with The Hoover.

In addition, you air-clean them with powerful suction—all in one operation that requires little time and almost no effort.

Then your rugs will wear many years longer, and always look bright and fresh.

Slayer Of Constable Is Being Hotly Pursued

Uniontown, Pa., Feb. 13. (INS.)—Uniontown and Fayette county police authorities, state troopers and private detectives are today in an extensive search for the slayer of Deputy Constable Robert W. Mason, 32, who was shot to death last night in a raid upon an alleged negro gambling joint at the mine town of Continental, N. J., near New York. More than 50 officers are taking part in the manhunt.

Newman D. McLean, state trooper from the Greensburg barracks, who was also shot in the raid, is believed to be out of danger today. Patrolman Harry Cain and James Merchant, a negro, were also slightly wounded in the general fight following Mason's death. Eight negroes were arrested by police early today but the killer is believed to have escaped.

Threats of summary justice if the slayer is found were made by friends of the dead constable, and county authorities were planning to hide the man from their vengeance.
